Lindsay's Incredible Milestone at McDonald's

by Case Manager, Maricela

“We are incredibly proud to highlight Lindsay, a shining example of determination, growth, and independence.”

“Lindsay began working at McDonald's in 2010, and for over a decade, she has consistently demonstrated what it means to be a reliable and dedicated employee. She works every weekend showing up with a positive attitude and strong work ethic.

Her manager, Erick, shared how impressed he is with Lindsay's performance. When he first started, he was told that Lindsay handled the fry station. However, as he got to know her capabilities, he began assigning her new responsibilities – including filling drive-thru orders and taking orders outside. To his great satisfaction, Lindsay learned each task quickly and with confidence.

Today, Lindsay does not require any support to complete her job – she excels at it. She is known for being responsible, dependable, and a pleasure to work with. Her coworkers enjoy having her on the team and value her contributions.

When asked about her job, Lindsay shared that she enjoys working at McDonald's and feels it's a great place to work.

Her success is a testament to her hard work and determination, and we at CAPC are honored to support and celebrate individuals like Lindsay. Way to go, Lindsay – we're proud of you!”

CAPC HIGHLIGHT

This month, we're excited to recognize CAPC Consumer Victor, a dedicated and detail-oriented individual who continues to shine through his volunteer work. Through his volunteer role at My Friends House Assembly Church, Victor consistently shows strong attention to detail helping create a welcoming space for the church community.

“Victor (He) currently volunteers at a church called My Friends House Assembly. There Victor helps tidies up throughout the church, paying close attention to detail. Everyone at the location is very happy with his work. I look forward to continue to support Victor.”

CAPC HIGHLIGHT

CAPC Consumer Perry has been gaining hands-on experience in clerical work, supporting the CAPC office with mailing schedules, data entry, and front desk tasks. Over time, he's picked up the pace and learned how the office runs day to day.

“My Name is Perry, I joined CAPC to find volunteer work. I volunteered at the Whittier Museum as an office volunteer doing data entry. I also shadowed Savannah at the CAPC office to post envelopes and do data entry work. I work with staff to apply for jobs. I received a Certificate of Achievement in Microcomputer Specialist from Cerritos College and Office Assistant certificate from La Mirada Adult School. I look forward to find another volunteer position. CAPC staff support me on being able to do my job and do health and fitness. When I'm not CAPC, I like to watch basketball, football, and baseball. My favorite teams are the Lakers, Angels and Chargers.” -Perry N., CAPC Consumer
